

The Coin in the Soil

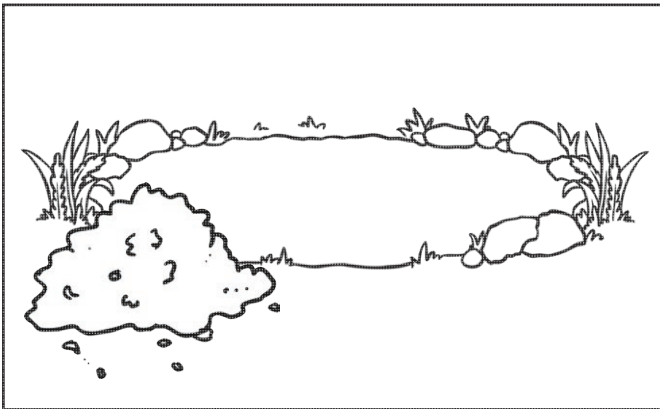

Long ago was a boat that had set sail to a town called Poin.

The men on the boat set sail to look for Poin. They got to Poin and it was still light.

Jack got off the boat and went to look. Then, Bob went to join him.

Next to a pond, was a stack of moist soil with a silver coin in.

On top of the soil, was a jar of poison.

Jack and Bob did not wish to spoil the coin. They had to avoid the poison. They got a stick with a point on and got the coin.
