

Book Talk Questions

Think of yourself as a spectator:

- With whose eyes did you see the story? Why?
- Did you only see what one character saw in the story, or did you see things sometimes as one character saw them, and sometimes as another and so on?
- Did you feel like the story was happening now? Or did you feel it was happening in the past and being remembered? Was there anything in the writing that made you feel like that?
- Which character interested you the most? Why?
- Is that character the most important in the story?
- Which character(s) didn't you like?
- Did any of the characters remind you of people you know? Did they remind you of characters in another book?
