

The Islamic Celebration: Eid Al-Fitr

WHAT IS RAMADAN?

Ramadan is in the ninth month of the Islamic calendar. The festival begins at different times for Muslims, depending on when the new moon is first sighted. It lasts from dawn until sunset for 29 or 30 days. Ramadan is a very important time for Muslims and is celebrated all over the world. During Ramadan, Muslims ask for forgiveness, pray regularly, and try to teach themselves self-control. It is a time of fasting for the Islamic people as fasting is one of the five duties (or pillars) that Muslims must obey. The Islamic name for this fasting is 'Saum'.

Why do Muslims FAST?

Fasting is meant to teach Muslims to be focused, be self-disciplined and generous. It also reminds them of the suffering of the poor, who may not get to eat well. The prophet Muhammad was one of the first Muslims to fast - other Muslims must follow his example. Each day during the month of Ramadan, Muslims all over the world do not eat or drink from dawn until sunset. At the end of the day after sunset, Muslim families will often all eat together and celebrate their day of fasting.

How do Muslims MARK the end of RAMADAN?

The end of Ramadan is a big celebration called 'Eid al-Fitr': The Festival of the Breaking of the Fast. Muslims celebrate the end of fasting and thank Allah for their strength. Eid al-Fitr officially begins when the first sight of the new moon is seen in the sky. This is thought to be one of the reasons why a crescent moon symbol is important within Islam.

How is Eid AL-Fitr celebrated?

On the first morning of the celebration, many Muslims meet for special prayers called Salat al-Eid, and have breakfast. They put on their best clothes for what will be their first meal in daylight for a month. Whilst there, some Muslims will exchange gifts and greeting cards. Celebrations continue for one, two or maybe even three days, and usually include gatherings to view the new moon, decorating homes inside and out, family visits, eating special foods, neighbourhood parties and wearing special, new clothes. People wish each other 'Eid Mubarak' (Blessed Eid) or 'Eid Said' (Happy Eid).

Did you know?

An estimated 2.1 billion Muslims across the globe will celebrate Eid al-Fitr to mark the end of the month-long fasting period of Ramadan - a third of that number are from the African continent.
