

Alliteration

Alliteration is when the first sounds of words are the same.

'the soothing scratching of his pencil' is an example of alliteration. Can you use alliteration to improve these sentences?

The ship went across the sea.

---

---

---

He drew a boat.

---

---

---

He said the magic word.

Now that you have written your own sentences using alliteration. Why do you think an author might decide to use it in their writing?
